

Three-State Mass Search For Iowa Boy Is Failure

Parents Still Believe 8-Year-Old Kidnapped

SIoux CITY, Iowa (AP)—An all-day search into parts of three Midwest states for a trace of Jimmie Bremmer, 8, who vanished mysteriously from his Sioux City home a month ago, was concluded at sundown Tuesday.

The outcome of volunteer efforts of Boy Scouts, soldiers, businessmen and housewives was briefly summed up by Asst. Police Chief Russell White: "Nothing new."

Harry Gibbons, chief of detectives, said there are no plans to continue an organized search for the missing son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bremmer.

White said more than 100 telephone calls were received from persons during the day giving information about the boy. He said each lead will be checked out Wednesday by police and National Guardsmen.

Tuesday's massive hunt was planned by police and the National Guard. It was the first large-scale organized hunt for the boy in several weeks. Small groups and individuals have carried on the search from time to time.

Police called it the greatest hunt in Sioux City history. It encompassed portions of adjoining Nebraska and South Dakota. Boy Scouts from nearby Homer and South Sioux City, Neb., were briefed by National Guard officers here before beginning their search.

Rivers, creeks, underbrush areas, vacant lots, barns, trash heaps and industrial premises were among locations combed as the search progressed. Searchers were afoot, horseback, in jeeps and boats in this latest effort to crack the riddle of Jimmie's strange disappearance.

It was about 8 p.m. on Aug. 31 that Jimmie, bare-chested above his blue jeans, bid goodnight to his pal Steve Counterman and walked off in the gathering dusk toward the Bremmer home a few yards away.

The two boys had been watching TV at a neighbor's house. Jimmie had promised to be home about 8. Soon after this hour his mother called for him. No answer. She telephoned the homes of his friends. No Jimmie. At 11:15 Mrs. Bremmer called police.

Thus began a "missing boy" case which Detective Chief Harry Gibbons calls "The most baffling in Sioux City history."

Jimmie's distraught parents are convinced he was abducted but no ransom note nor any other clue has come to them. His father is a bakery checker of modest income. Their home is in a hilly area where wide sections are in open fields or underbrush. They also have two young daughters.

An intense hunt, in which hundreds of searchers joined hands to cover every foot of ground in Sioux City's entire West End, was carried out fruitlessly in the days after Jimmie vanished. Police have circulated the nation with the lad's picture and description without results. Rivers have been dragged, wells and culverts probed.

HOMELESS NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A vagrant, found asleep on a sidewalk, was asked where he lived. He told two detectives: "My home is any place I hang my hat."

"Where's your hat?" "I haven't got one."

When he (President Eisenhower) steals planks out of the Democratic platform, I'll help him nail them up," continued Douglas at a downtown street rally.

Douglas attacked the Republican administration's farm program as designed "to cut the heart out of the American farmer."

Triplets Arrive For Danbury Grandparents

DANBURY, Conn. (AP)—What do you say when you expect your family to be increased from 15 to 16 children, and it's increased to 18 instead?

It happened in Danbury Tuesday to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schlemmer, 46 and 41 years old respectively, who also have three grandchildren.

Said Schlemmer, a $64 a week machinist: "We'll get along all right."

Said Mrs. Schlemmer, repeating it many times: "Three babies! Triplets!"

Mrs. Schlemmer, who had borne 15 children previously (2 have died), expected but one child when she entered Danbury Hospital early Tuesday. Her husband, after bringing her to the hospital, went off to work.

At 6:26 a.m. a 4 pound, 9 ounce son was born. Thirty-three minutes later there arrived a 5 pound, 3 ounce son, and one hour and five minutes after that a 4 pound, 3 ounce daughter—the fourth set of triplets in Danbury's history.

Schlemmer, called back to the hospital because of the multiple births, at first blurted to a reporter: "We were expecting one baby and that was plenty."

It was after he had calmed down that he expressed the opinion that, despite three new additions, "We'll get along all right."

Schlemmer had to calm down, too, before he could count his children correctly.

He said first that the triplets were their 15th, 16th and 17th offspring. Later, he realized he had miscalculated. They were the 16th, 17th and 18th.

Chief's Lapse Gave Swiatlo His Freedom

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jozef Swiatlo Tuesday credited his escape from Communist Poland to the fact that his security chief got so wrapped up in Western luxury items he forgot to keep an eye on him.

Swiatlo, former No. 2 man in Poland's security setup, related the fantastic set of circumstances that enabled him to escape last Dec. 5.

Swiatlo said he and his chief, Col. Anatol Fajgin, went to Berlin to discuss a certain document with the Russians. Swiatlo had been anxious to escape for some time, he said, but hadn't had any opportunity.

After making his report Swiatlo said, he and Fajgin got on a subway and "landed accidentally in West Berlin."

"We didn't know we were in West Berlin," he said, "but we were intrigued by the beautiful stores stocked with so much merchandise."

When they went into the stores to make some purchases, they learned their Eastern marks were no good. "That's when I knew we were in West Germany."

They went back to West Berlin the next day, "I intending to flee, he intending to buy the things he wanted."

Swiatlo said he walked into a booth and exchanged Eastern marks for Western marks.

"When Fajgin went in to change his marks, I fled," he went to Western military authorities seeking asylum.

"That," said Swiatlo, "is where I owe Col. Fajgin a debt of gratitude. For his liking of Western luxuries enabled me to flee."

Someone asked him what Fajgin wanted to buy.

Swiatlo laughed. "It was only a question of how much he could buy with the money he had."

Bettag Criticizes Mental Hospital Recommendations

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Dr. Otto L. Bettag, state welfare director, Tuesday criticized as "idealistic and unrealistic" recommendations made by the American Psychiatric Assn. for improving the Illinois mental hospital system.

Bettag said that to carry them out would require an expenditure of 250 million dollars for new construction, rehabilitation of buildings and fire protection installations, plus 40 million dollars every two years in additional salaries.

One of the recommendations, he said, would require an increase in Welfare Department personnel from the present 11,751 employees to 19,251.

Bettag's remarks were contained in a 4,000-word memorandum to Gov. Stratten. Copies of the 663-page APA report were not distributed.

The study of 11 welfare mental institutions was made by Dr. Frederick L. McDaniel, former superintendent of mental health services for the State of Virginia, between February 1953 and February 1954. It was undertaken at the request of Fred K. Hoehler, Bettag's predecessor, with Bettag's subsequent authorization.

Bettag said the findings were generally similar to those reported after four previous studies dating from 1933. They stressed overcrowding of hospitals and shortage of trained personnel to care for patients, he said.

Despite numerous detailed criticisms of the survey, Bettag said in his memorandum: "The State of Illinois has a moral obligation to plan to meet its total responsibility and to put into effect immediately those portions of the recommendations which the citizens are willing to provide."

No. 2 Polish Security Officer In Capital

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP)—An escapee from behind the Iron Curtain, a top ranking Polish security officer, turned up in Washington Tuesday. He declared that resistance to Communist regimes is widespread throughout the Soviet satellite countries.

The official is Jozef Swiatlo, who was No. 2 man in Communist Poland's security program. The U.S. government had kept him secretly in Washington for eight months, and lifted the veil of secrecy only Tuesday. No one explained the delay.

The story, which had the elements of a spy thriller, brought into the open an account of the mysterious European disappearance five years ago of Noel and Hermann Field, American brothers, and Noel's wife, Herta.

Swiatlo, a stocky, ruddy-faced man of 39, spoke with newsmen at a far-ranging press conference at which he said:

1. Active revolt against the Communists in Iron Curtain countries is a virtual impossibility now because "the Red army is everywhere." But the United States "should do everything it can to bolster the spirit of resistance."

2. "There is a great movement for resistance" against the Moscow-directed Red leaders in Poland. This "resistance shows up among all classes." He said it was likely that a central body was organizing the resistance.

3. He fled Poland because of his "great ideological disappointments" with communism.

4. He intends to devote the rest of his life "to help the West in its battle against the Communists."

Army's Lie Detectors Substitute For Momma

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—All over the world, complicated machines today are making like Mom—and the discipline she imposed—for the U.S. Army.

They are lie detectors, and, according to Maj. Gen. William H. Maglin, provost marshal general, their job boils down to what Mom used to do much better.

"She was the original lie detector, and a good one," the general said. "Remember how she used to call you in and question you? And how she noticed when your face flushed and you began to sweat?"

"That's all a lie detector really does. It measures mechanically the responses Mom used to size up with her eye."

The military police corps, which Maglin heads, has just celebrated its 13th anniversary. And as part of that celebration a lie detector was set up in the Pentagon concourse.

Maglin explained that Army investigators go through all the evident against the Communists." The Foreign Operations Administration, obviously delighted to present a significant case of Communist detection, introduced Swiatlo to 200 newsmen late in the afternoon.

He answered questions freely through an interpreter, Jules A. Nowotny, of the Library of Congress. Much of the questioning was concentrated on the case of the Fields.

As if to punctuate the dramatic situation, the State Department made public the text of notes sent to the Iron Curtain countries of Poland and Hungary, demanding the release of the Fields.

The notes said Swiatlo had filled in the missing gaps in the cases of the Fields.

The background is this: Noel Field, who worked for the State Department from 1926 to 1936, went to Czechoslovakia in

Ex-Secretary Of Labor Undergoes Brain Operation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin Tuesday underwent a brain tumor operation at Georgetown University Hospital.

"Everything went along satisfactorily and his condition is good," Durkin's physician reported after the surgery.

Durkin, 60, president of the AFL plumbers' union, was President Eisenhower's first labor secretary, but resigned after eight months in office, charging the administration had gone back on an agreement to propose to Congress 19 specific amendments to the Taft-Hartley law. He was succeeded by James P. Mitchell.

Durkin was the only Democrat named to the Eisenhower Cabinet. He had supported Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee, in the 1952 elections.

Except for his Cabinet service, Durkin has been president of the plumbers' union since 1943. He served from 1933 to 1941 as head of the Illinois Department of Labor.

The fleet units have since returned to Manila. The dispatch, dated Wednesday, said the movement of fleet units, including the three carriers, the heavy cruiser St. Paul and a number of destroyers, was occasioned by the bombardment from the mainland of the Chinese Nationalist island of Quemoy, beginning Sept. 3.

The dispatch said the carriers and escorting vessels moved from one location to another, "allowing pilots to become familiar with the terrain and conditions throughout the area" and made one night passage through the Straits.

Three months later, Hermann, a Cleveland architect, went to Poland hunting for his brother. He was last heard of when he went to the airport in Warsaw Aug. 12, 1949, preparing to fly to Prague.

The Field brothers were accused of spying for the United States. They denied it. Swiatlo said Tuesday that he thought they were Communist sympathizers but didn't know if they were party members.

At any rate, Swiatlo said they had told him they were not American intelligence agents. The former Red Polish leader said they helped Communist and non-Communist refugees to escape from Czechoslovakia through Germany into the Western world.

Essentially, Swiatlo said, the Fields were "needed" by the Communists in the prosecution of Laszlo Rajk, former Hungarian foreign minister who was executed Oct. 15, 1949 for treason on grounds he conspired with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia and was linked to "American imperialists."

Swiatlo described Noel Field as "merely an intermediary" in the Rajk case "to show up all those who supported Titoism as working for American capitalism."

As for Hermann Field, Swiatlo said he merely went looking for his brother and that "behind the Iron Curtain, they did not want anyone looking for Noel Field."

Swiatlo told U.S. authorities that Noel Field and his wife are presumably still in prison in Hungary and that Hermann Field is jailed in Warsaw.

The U. S. notes to Hungary and Poland demanded their repatriation "at the earliest possible date."

U.S. 7th Fleet In Position To Fight Attack On Formosa

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A dispatch from the U. S. 7th Fleet said Tuesday that units of the fleet early this month moved into position to resist Chinese Communist invasion of Formosa.

Planes from the U. S. carriers Hornet, Boxer and Yorktown, the dispatch released here by the commander of the Pacific Fleet Air Force said, streamed into the air over the Formosa Strait ready for action.

The fleet units have since returned to Manila.

The dispatch, dated Wednesday, said the movement of fleet units, including the three carriers, the heavy cruiser St. Paul and a number of destroyers, was occasioned by the bombardment from the mainland of the Chinese Nationalist island of Quemoy, beginning Sept. 3.

France, Eight Allies Split On Control Of German Rearmament

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

LONDON (AP)—France and her Western Allies disagreed Tuesday night on how to prevent any run-away German rearmament. The question emerged as the key issue before the nine-power conference meeting to free and reararm West Germany in the Atlantic alliance.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France called for a seven-nation European armaments authority to control the production and supply of weapons in West Germany, France, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg and Italy. Britain would be an uncontrolled seventh partner.

German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer proposed instead that controls be exercised by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization over all of its continental European members. West Germany would become NATO's 15th member nation.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden backed Adenauer's proposal. It appeared that support also would come from the other nations participating—Italy, Canada, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

Although difficulties arose, key delegations voiced a cautious optimism that agreements in principle on freeing and rearmed the West Germans would be reached this week.

Some delegations suggested a solution may lie in letting NATO and the seven-nation group share controls.

Adenauer suggested giving NATO more powers to insure effective controls.

Conference informants said the French, invaded three times in three generations by German hordes, want the new German military buildup so strictly controlled that a superauthority would decide even where new German arms factories could be built.

A second French proposal threatened to snag the conference, Mendes-France said. The French-German dispute over the Saar should be settled as part of a "package deal" that would include an agreement on arming West Germany. The rich coal and steel producing territory, German before World War II, has been a bone of contention between the two countries for generations.

RUNNING HARD—AND FORWARD

(From the Christian Science Monitor)

Those who are advising the Republicans to "run scared" in this year's elections are striving to prevent complacency. But to this newspaper it would appear that moving in the right direction might be no less important. Fright has been known to paralyze movement. Or to cause a hasty backing up.

Reports of a "Democratic trend" plus the Maine election may well spur the Republicans to run hard—and forward. Meanwhile Democratic leaders at their meeting in Indianapolis have given plain notice where their principal hopes lie. They are counting on an accumulation of economic discontents. Underscoring these will be their main campaign strategy.

At the same time, strangely enough, Republicans are counting on prosperity. And there is a good deal of prosperity in the nation as a whole. Prosperity in peacetime should have a wide appeal. But there are some areas of distress in many states and complaints from several economic groups. Chiefly because their present situation isn't as good as it was three years ago. For instance, many farmers who are not themselves hit by the administration's farm program are acutely aware that since 1951 their income is down roughly 20 per cent while their costs have risen. That most of this came before 1953 is forgotten.

Similarly many workers who are not hit by unemployment are no longer getting overtime. Their take-home pay is reduced. Others are dissatisfied because federal economies have curtailed services or jobs in which they were interested.

One case in point is the vetoing of the bill granting a pay rise to nearly 2,000,000 federal employees. This started as a pay increase for postal workers and the administration sought—with some reason—to link it with an increase in postal rates. When this failed, President Eisenhower applied a pocket veto to the pay increases on the grounds that the bill provided no way to obtain the money.

The Republicans have achieved really remarkable results in saving money and improving efficiency. But they have not been effective in explaining how such tightening-up carries benefits for all citizens. The same applies in regard to many facets of the Eisenhower program. Its advantages are generalized, and make relatively little appeal to special voting blocs.

Republicans are also having internal troubles. One GOP faction feels the administration has been too soft on McCarthyism, too Knowlandish in foreign policy. The other feels the opposite so strongly it will stay at home or vote for Democrats.

But if the Democrats can, while out of office, repair some of the cracks in their party, the Republicans should be able, in office, to do even more welding. The President's popularity still holds very high and should help Republican congressmen.

This fact and the fact that where the Republicans have developed progressive vigorous leadership locally they have gained state after state gives the liberal wing of that party strong talking points. Their losses in the last two years—including Maine—have nearly all occurred where leadership appeared to be looking backward or had been touched with scandal.

The Republicans are having more difficulty than they expected "selling" the Eisenhower program. But they still have a chance to get it across. And they have reason to hope that where they can offer candidates of the Eisenhower type they will present a strong appeal.

The World Today

By ED CREAUGH
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (P)—For dressing down a one-star general, Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) gets roundly chided by a "grand jury" of fellow senators.

The Watkins committee says his handling of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker was "reprehensible" and "inexcusable." The committee says the whole Senate should censure McCarthy on this and other grounds.

And yet for assailing a much better known military figure—a five-star general, in fact—McCarthy goes scot-free so far as the Watkins group is concerned. Its official report calls for no censure of the 1951 speech in which McCarthy said Gen. George C. Marshall made "common cause" with the Russians after World War II.

What's the difference? Both the Zwicker and the Marshall incidents were cited among the 46 original accusations against McCarthy. Why did the Watkins committee throw out the Marshall case, yet use its strongest language in condemning McCarthy for the Zwicker affair?

The basic reason, the committee says, is that McCarthy made his speech against Marshall on the Senate floor. And the committee says that while it "may disagree" with statements made in the Senate about public figures, to do anything about them "would tend to place unwarranted limitations on the freedom of speech in the Senate."

McCarthy had his set-to with Zwicker, on the other hand, far from the Senate floor—at a New York hearing of McCarthy's own permanent Investigations subcommittee. And there, says the Watkins committee, McCarthy's conduct "was not proper under the circumstances."

What was McCarthy's conduct? Telling Zwicker, among other things, he questioned either the general's honesty or his intelligence. And saying Zwicker, a much decorated World War II veteran, wasn't fit to wear the uniform of a general. This wasn't abuse, McCarthy argued—it was just vigorous cross-examination to get the truth from what he called an evasive, arrogant witness.

The Watkins committee slapped McCarthy down on that point. It held Zwicker behaved very well under a barrage of questions. McCarthy had no business asking him. And McCarthy's behavior, it said, would have been out of bounds "in the case of any witness, whether a general or a private citizen."

This wasn't the only "indictment" brought by the Watkins committee. The group also recommended the Senate, when it comes back to town six days after election, censure McCarthy for (1) refusing to appear for questioning before an earlier committee which investigated him in 1951-52, and (2) using harsh language about members of that committee.

In addition the Watkins committee found fault with McCarthy's conduct in a few other fields—his accepting secret FBI data, for instance—though it stopped short of recommending formal censure in these cases.

But the toughest language in the whole 66-page report, buttressed by 1,027 pages of testimony and exhibits, was reserved for the Zwicker affair, which pitted a senator from Appleton, Wis., against a general from the town of Stoughton in the same state.

That was a fateful encounter for both men. It plunged the general into a political controversy which he makes no secret of detesting. And, in a sense, it was the start of most of McCarthy's recent troubles for it led straight to his full-scale row with the Army's top officials, and to various conflicts with President Eisenhower and other Republican leaders.

Life would have been brighter for both men if one or the other had stayed back in Wisconsin.

Now Is Good Time to Review Child's Vaccination Status

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

It is appropriate at the beginning of the school year to review one's children's status so far as protective vaccination or immunization is concerned.

Most children are given several of the vaccinations they need in the very first months or years of life. But often in order to insure continued protection these injections should be repeated one or more times during the school-age period.

Furthermore, new developments continue to occur. It may be that some of the older high school youngsters did not receive the toxoid injections against tetanus or lockjaw which are now so commonly given to small children, and therefore could profit by it.

HERE ARE SOME of the things to consider. Vaccination against smallpox is usually done within the first six months after birth.

After this vaccination (which should be and almost always is "take" at that age), immunization against diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus (lockjaw) are often done. These are often given together by or before six months old usually in four doses.

THESE FOUR are probably the most important protective inoculations for children. All of them, including smallpox, should be repeated in the later years of childhood to reinforce the resistance. Entry into school is a good time to consider such repetition.

Sometimes a question of other types of inoculation comes up.

Among them is that against typhoid fever, which is a germ disease usually contracted from contaminated water, milk, fruits or vegetables. If a person is going to some part of the world where the sanitation is poor, inoculation against typhoid and possibly other diseases may be desirable.

THE ADVICE of the physician who takes care of the child from birth should be followed when it comes to giving protective inoculations. Remember that the situation may change.

Certainly these vaccinations are largely responsible for the much better chance of living through childhood which youngsters have now than those of even fifty years ago.

More than a trillion kilowatt-hours of electric power will be produced annually in the United States by 1964, experts predict. That's more than double estimated production for this year.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (P)—Robert Fabian, Britain's most celebrated detective since Sherlock Holmes, feels it might be a good idea if American cops quit carrying guns.

"The display of firearms is to be deprecated," mildly observed the ex-detective superintendent of Scotland Yard. "It incites the criminal to carry one, too."

"It is an antiquated."

In his 28-years service with "The Yard" Fabian solved a dozen murders, helped send 9 men to the gallows, more than 800 to prison.

"I never carried a gun in my life," he said, "although twice I had to take guns away from men who seemed to want to use them on me. The only weapon I ever needed was my hands."

An expert in Ju-Jitsu, Fabian began his career as an ordinary constable. He still feels the best way to cut down crime is to put more cops out on beats, swinging a nightstick.

"But I don't go along with this gun carrying," he said. "And it's not because I'm soft either. I'm not vicious, but I do think the pendulum has swung too far the wrong way in our treatment of criminals."

"We pamper both young delinquents and hardened criminals too much."

Fabian believes Britain made a mistake in doing away with the cat of nine tails in 1948. He is convinced that 10 lashes on a criminal's back with "the cat," or 20 strokes with birch switches on his bare bottom teaches him an unforgettable lesson.

"The physical punishment is not as bad as the degradation," he said. "When you barge a criminal, you treat him like a naughty school boy. He never lives down the shame of it—not even with his own class."

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (P)—They were shooting Abe Lincoln again, and I went out to watch it happen.

The assassination was taking place on a 20th-Fox stage for "Prince of Players," the biography of Edwin Booth. Philip Dunne, a studios type who is directing his first picture, told me that the set was an exact replica of Ford's Theater. "Too darned exact," he complained. "I have trouble getting my camera into it."

President Lincoln was being played by a London-born dancer named Stanley Hall. This fellow can boast the most contrasting assignments of the year. His last job was with the Jack Cole Dancers in a Marilyn Monroe number for "There's No Business Like Show Business."

All Hall had to do was sit in the box and get shot. But John Wilkes Booth had to do the dastardly deed and then leap 15 feet to the stage. Booth is played by John Derek, a foolhardy lad who wanted to make the jump himself.

Director Dunne decided he wanted no actor with a broken leg, and so a stunt man was called. The fellow made the leap, landing in a nest of rubber cushions below the level of the stage. Then Derek jumped, but only to another platform a few feet below the presidential box. When you see the picture, it'll look just as if he took the fall himself.

Revised Figures Reveal

Ike Batted .513 on Program

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (P)—The White House has quietly revised Ike's batting average on how much of his legislative program he hit through Congress down from the original announced 830 to 513.

When Ike's legislative man, Gen. Wilton Persons, gleefully called in reporters to announce the original figures he stated that the President had succeeded in getting 53 of his proposals passed and had failed on 11.

The new report, which is a painstaking breakdown of all of the President's legislative recommendations, revealed that he got 59 measures passed but failed on 56. That does not include appropriations requests. But it does include everything in the State of the Union Message, special messages, budget messages and recommendations in the economic report.

An interesting figure in the new breakdown is the revelation that the Administration failed to come up with bills on 11 specific requests which the President had made. This might account for part of the discrepancy between the two averages.

No Bill For A new military reserve plan was offered. Ike had asked for an increase of the minimum wage and expansion of its coverage, but no bill accomplishing this was dropped in the hopper. Nor did any Administration source produce a promised "buy American" bill, a revised public lands policy or a bill which would revise the immigration act.

There were several minor items in that list like Ike's request for a uniform law on how the flag should be displayed.

There are several reasons for this failure. In the case of the reserve bill the Pentagon didn't come up with a plan soon enough. Some items, like the new minimum wage, might have been too controversial within the party. A couple of the recommendations apparently were just forgotten.

Actually there's no way to figure a batting average like this on legislation because it's not a simple arithmetic problem. Some bills are more important than others. Some bills weren't entirely satisfactory to the President. Depending on how you figure the variables you could come up with any average.

The Important Thing, really, is that Ike was overjoyed with the net result and the party is making political hay out of it.

A significant aspect of the new list of what was passed and not passed is that there are not a lot of controversial parts of Ike's basic program left to be enacted into law.

This fact has a bearing on both the current campaigns and on the possibility that Ike will be stuck with a Democratic House and Senate next year.

It tends to weaken the Republican argument that unless the voters support GOP candidates Ike's legislative program is going to be scuttled. If you assume that the President didn't hold anything back from the program as he originally stated it, then by his own claim the bulk of it is law already, regardless of whether the Democrats win Congress in November.

Of Course There Will Be new issues coming up. But a rundown from the new "unpassed" list shows relatively few really hot issues Ike would have to take up with a Democratic Congress.

He might have trouble with his federal reinsurance health service plan. He didn't have to come up with a uniform wage resource policy but it could give trouble when he does try to get one through a Democratic Congress. If that happens.

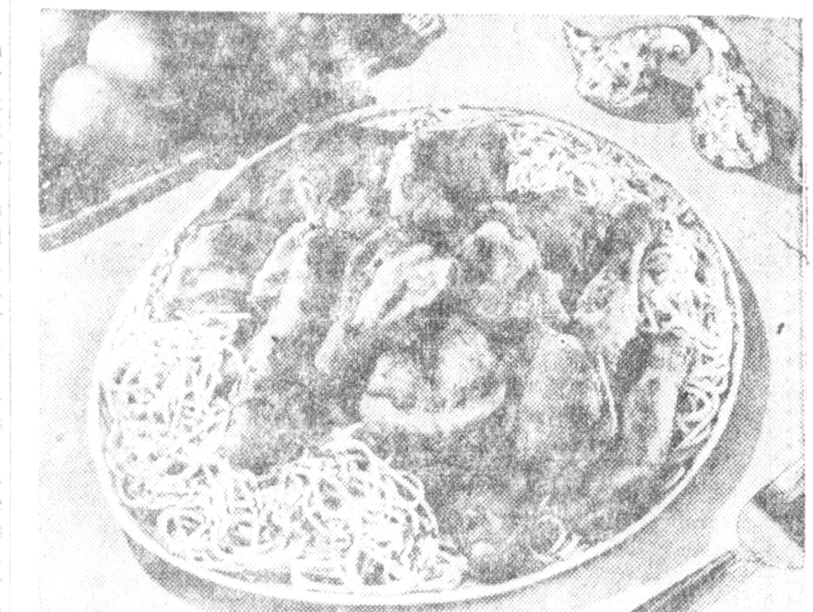

There are the elements of the chronic public versus private power fight in the Niagara River and Upper Colorado River Basin development programs which will be taken up by the next Congress. A partisan fight could easily develop over Ike's promise to make changes in the immigration law.

The one thing that's sure of there's a Democratic Congress. Ike will have his education in politics thoroughly rounded out by the time the 1956 elections roll around.

Stewing Chickens and Broiler-Fryers Are Plentiful

CHICKEN WITH MACARONI, Italian style, is both a good family and party dish.

BY GAYNOR MADDON
NEA Food and Markets Editor

From Washington, D. C., the United States Department of Agriculture reports that stewing chickens and broiler-fryers chickens are now tremendous supply all over the country.

Prices are reasonable for this high quality protein food. So we pass on a new family recipe from our friend Kathryn B. Niles, home economics director, Poultry and Egg National Board. "Many people have never heard of browing and crisping stewing chicken that has previously been cooked to tenderness in seasoned water. It makes the chicken even better," Miss Niles says.

Chicken With Macaroni, Italian Style

One ready-to-cook stewing chicken, cut-up stewed, seasoned flour, fat for browning, 1 package (eight ounces) macaroni cooked and drained, 1 large clove garlic, minced, 1/2 cup chicken fat, butter or margarine, 1/2 cup minced fresh sweet basil or parsley, 1/4 teaspoon ground pepper, 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Coat cooked chicken with seasoned flour (1 cup flour, 1 tablespoon paprika, 1 teaspoon pepper and salt—amount of salt used will depend on salt used for stewing).

Place chicken in hot fat, turning to brown and crisp evenly. Meanwhile saute garlic in melted chicken fat, butter or margarine until delicately browned. Add macaroni and remaining ingredients. Toss together lightly. Cover and heat gently, stirring occasionally, for about ten minutes. If necessary, add one tablespoon water to keep from sticking. Serve macaroni with the chicken.

Note: To stew chicken: Place chicken in heavy kettle. All 1/2 cup water and 1/2 teaspoon salt for each pound of chicken. Cover. Simmer until fork-tender, about 3 hours. Remove chicken from broth. Refrigerate broth promptly. Proceed with chicken as directed above.

Manners Make Friends

If you have a friend in an office, and she has a telephone at her elbow, don't call her and engage in long-winded conversations. Call her at home, when the two of you can talk at leisure.

Neither she nor her employer will appreciate receiving lengthy calls at the office, and you may actually endanger her job.

THOUGHTS

And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?—Acts 9:4.

Here Are Some Free Gifts Your Wife Will Appreciate

Want to give your wife a gift without spending one thin dime? When you get home from work tomorrow night give her the kind of kiss that means, "Gee, but I'm glad to see you" instead of the absent-minded, "What's for dinner?" husbandly type of kiss.

Take five minutes to call her from the office—not to remind her to send your blue suit to the cleaners—but just to talk.

At night when she asks you what's new at the office, tell her a few things that happened during the day instead of mumbling "Nothing much." If she weren't really interested in your work she wouldn't be asking you about it.

ASK HER ADVICE

When she gets all dressed up to go to a party, take time out for a long appraising look and maybe even an appreciative whistle.

Ask her advice about something, even if it is on as small a scale as which of two ties look better with your new suit.

Look around when you come home at night so you can comment on how nice the house looks after she has spent a day rearranging furniture. Or notice that the rose bush she has been giving tender, loving care is at last in bloom.

Compliment her once in a while on being a good and understanding mother.

If the thought ever crosses your mind that you are a pretty lucky fellow, share it with her, just as quickly as you let her know when you are discouraged, dissatisfied or feeling that you're on a treadmill.

No fooling, these are the gifts that women really treasure and they cost nothing.

Bunch Funeral At Meredosia
Funeral services for Delbert Junior Bunch, who was killed Sept. 24 in an automobile accident, were held Monday at St. John's Lutheran church in Meredosia. The Reverend Louis F. Rodenbeck officiated. Committal services, with military honors by the American Legion post 516 of Meredosia, were held in the 'Oxville' cemetery.

Mrs. Bernice Edien was organist and Miss Sarah Barfield sang "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Beyond the Sunset."
Delbert Junior Bunch was born Aug. 13, 1929, the son of Ruby and Zella Bunch. He attended the Burrus and Meredosia grade schools and the Meredosia high school. He served two years in the Navy from 1946 to 1948 and enlisted in 1950 in the Air Force, receiving his discharge last August.
He is survived by his parents of Meredosia and wife, the former Corine VanHook and one daughter, Deljean, both of Tulsa, Oklahoma; two sisters, Marcella and Shirley, Meredosia. A brother, Wayne, and an infant sister, preceded him in death.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
Displays of softness toward communism in both Britain and France are playing a hardly visible yet highly important role in the London conference on German rearmament.
As the conference opened, the British Labor party approved German rearmament by a very small majority and only after Clement Attlee had made it a test of his leadership.
This comes after a series of statements by Attlee and Aneurin Bevan, the party's left-wing leader, following a trip to Russia and Red China, criticizing Western policy and giving aid and comfort to the Reds.
The foreign ministers cannot help but wonder what would happen to any agreement they may make if the Labor party should come into power in Britain, and there should be only a slight shift toward what is now the minority opinion led by Bevan. He proposed a complete ban on German rearmament, and got 2,810,000 of the 6,191,000 votes, very close to half.
In France, Premier Mendes-France has been charged with softness, and been vigorously defended. But a scandal involving national security, with revelation that the Communists have been informed of proceedings in the National Defense Council comprised of ministers and generals, does nothing to enhance his standing in London. If nothing else, the mere fact that a political storm will now rage around his government is enough to prove unsettling at the conference.
There was already suspicion that Mendes-France was inserting one new demand after another into French proposals for European defense with the idea of staving off German rearmament rather than getting an agreement.
The other nations have been willing to discount this for the most part pending the proof of his pudding in London.
His latest step, however, in seeking to include the Saar problem in a package deal embracing German sovereignty and rearmament, was immediately estimated in London as an effort to establish a bargaining point rather than a matter of substance, and hence as another delay. Germany has agreed to "Europeanization" of the Saar under the Council of Europe. Mendes-France now is asking that it come under the Brussels treaty organization into which the ministers are considering incorporation of West Germany and Italy.
All of these things are bound to play their parts in the extremely conservative American estimate of the prospects for success at London.

Proclamation

WHEREAS the opportunity to earn a living in occupations suited to each individual's abilities and interests is essential to the happiness, self-respect and welfare of virtually all men and women; and
WHEREAS the outstanding performance of the thousands of physically handicapped persons presently employed as demonstrated the competence of these workers when they have been properly trained and placed in suitable jobs; and
WHEREAS it is essential to our nation's defense and economic welfare that the talents and skills of all its citizens, including the physically handicapped, be utilized to their fullest extent, and this can best be accomplished by furthering public understanding of effective methods for the rehabilitation and employment of physically handicapped, but otherwise qualified, men and women:
NOW, THEREFORE, I, Ernest L. Hoagland Mayor of the City of Jacksonville do hereby proclaim the week beginning October 3, 1954, as EMPLOY THE PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED WEEK in Jacksonville, and call upon industry, labor, civic, fraternal, women's, agricultural, veterans', and other organizations and groups, as well as our citizens generally to take part in the observance of the designated week in order to enlist the widest possible support of programs designed to increase opportunities in employment for the physically handicapped. I urge employers to consult the Illinois State Employment Services for assistance in filling jobs with qualified disabled workers.
Dated this 28 day of September, A. D. 1954.
Ernest L. Hoagland, Mayor.

CHICAGO—Entries from Morgan county for the 2nd annual International Dairy Show to be held here October 9-16 were received here recently from John Thomas Adkins, nationally known Milking Shorthorn cattle breeder of Prentice, show officials announced Tuesday.
He has listed entries for 9 animals. Included is the Grand Champion cow and first prize bull calf at the recent Illinois, Ohio, and Indiana State Fairs.
Milking Shorthorns, which are having their national show at Chicago this year, will be judged on October 14 and 15, by Jesse E. Oakley, of Uniontown, Alabama.
The Chicago show will be held in the air-conditioned International Amphitheatre, home of the famous 55-year-old International Live Stock Exposition, under whose management and sponsorship the Dairy Show is also conducted.
Thirteen championship rodeo performances will be the feature entertainment at the event. The Cremer Rodeo Ranch, of Big Timber, Montana, will again furnish rough, bucking, outlaw stock for the competing cowboys.

1st Presbyterian Family Night To Have Travel Talk

Mrs. F. F. McCarthy, well-known Jacksonville traveler, will present the program at the First Presbyterian Family Church Night, Wednesday, Sept. 29. Mrs. McCarthy traveled 14,000 miles this summer in company with 28 professional people, ministers, teachers, and lecturers. Among the countries of Europe, Africa, and Asia visited, were four nations in the Holy Land area. Her program this Wednesday will be principally about the Holy Land and will be illustrated with pictures she took there.
Mrs. McCarthy is a member of First Presbyterian church and the assistant superintendent of the Sunday school.
This is the first in the fall series of Church Nights, and will begin with a covered dish supper at 6:00 o'clock. Members of Circle No. 1 are in charge of food arrangements, with Mrs. Harold Swisher chairman of the arrangements committee.
Each Wednesday night is to be Church Night at First Presbyterian church this year, with a different kind of activity each week. Once each month a supper is scheduled, generally to be on the last Wednesday of the month. Next week, Oct. 6, a study and discussion group will meet, with family craft activities scheduled for the following week.

2nd District Bar Federation Meets In Pittsfield

PITTSFIELD—Members of the 2nd district Federation of Local Bar Associations will hold their annual meeting in this city on Tuesday. This is the first time the meeting has been held here. Three local attorneys are officers of the association: Lewis M. Grigsby, president; Paul F. Grote, Jr., vice-president, and Brice Irving, states attorney, secretary.

The meeting will convene at ten o'clock in the circuit court room, with a luncheon at Orr Memorial Hall at noon.

The program will consist largely of discussions on proposed changes of the Illinois statutes and presentations and explanations of the 1954 Internal Revenue Code, according to attorney Grigsby. The Hon. Henry B. Hershey, Justice of the Supreme Court of Illinois, will give a brief address and the Hon. Karl C. Williams, president of the Illinois State Bar Association, will also speak.

Mrs. Grigsby, wife of the president, will entertain the ladies of the group, an organization of which she is president, at a one o'clock luncheon at the Community Center, after which the group will go to her

Attend Meeting

The Nancy Ross Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was well represented at the fifth divisional meeting held in Springfield Friday, including the Regent of the chapter, Miss Marjorie Nighbert.

The chapters in the Division were all represented. Twelve members from the local chapter were in attendance and won first prize for having the greatest number of representatives at the meeting, an honor which is not new to them. The fifth division is represented on the State board by Mrs. Paul Allen of Waverly. The luncheon was served at the Washington Park pavilion.

Personals

Mrs. E. M. Nighbert of Pensacola, Florida, arrived in the city on Saturday for a visit with her relatives, Mrs. Paul F. Grote Sr. and the Misses Veda and Marjorie Nighbert. The visitor is the former Miss Augusta Grote, a native of this county, and a sister of the late Miss Caroline Grote who for many years was Dean of Women at Western Illinois State College, Macomb.

Miss Frieda McCarter, who has been visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Ellen McCarter, the past two weeks, was taken to St. Louis Saturday by members of her family, where she boarded a plane for her return to San Francisco. She is employed as a director in the Y. M. C. A. and is instructor in swimming.

Roodhouse Plans Brotherhood Day To Benefit Blind

ROODHOUSE — Arrangements have been made for the annual "Brotherhood Day" drive in Roodhouse next Sept. 2, 1954, for the benefit of the blind and visually handicapped of this country. Headquarters will be at the city hall under the supervision of Miss Mabel Hopkins, who will give instructions to those who volunteer to lend a helping hand. The artificial flowers offered by the volunteer workers are assembled by the blind, who are thus given home employment through which they achieve a measure of self-support. The funds collected by this drive provide many kinds of free services to the blind, such as eye operations and medical care, glasses for needy school children who otherwise might not be able to obtain them, braille reading and writing materials, braille games, white canes and various other services depending upon individual needs. vice for the Blind, Inc., is a non-profit, non-sectarian national agency which provides, without charge, vitally needed help to the blind. The brotherhood co-operates with all social welfare organizations, clinics, hospitals, educational institutions and social agencies engaged in helping the blind in any manner. The work of the National Brotherhood of Service for the Blind is supported entirely by free-will offerings. Baptist Fish Fry The sixth annual church fish fry will be held at the First Baptist church Thursday evening at 6:30. Fish and a drink will be furnished by the church. Members and friends are invited to partake of the supper, which will be served in the fellowship room in the basement of the church. A committee of men will fry the fish on the lawn of the church. Tenth Birthday Party Mrs. Earl Newingham entertained Saturday afternoon with a party for her daughter, Judith, who was celebrating her tenth birthday anniversary. Prizes at games were awarded to Pat Henry, Susie Liesenfelt and Barbara Crafon. The guest of honor received many gifts. Cupcakes bearing the names of the guests and ice cream were served with soda pop to the guests by Mrs. Newingham assisted by Mrs. Jack Maberry. Judith's birthday cake, complete with candles, was also cut and served to all. Present were Jonny Kay Yarc, Kathy and Dorothy Darringer, Susie Liesenfelt, Linda Pollard, Barbara Reynolds, Louise Kelly, Barbara Crafon, Sheila Kay Newingham, Pat Henry, Shirley Downs, Karen Blake, Peggy Dawdy, Shan Hannaford, Jean Maberry and the guest of honor, Judith. Persons Mrs. Robert Spencer, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Silvernail, is a patient at Barnes hospital, St. Louis, Mo. Mrs. W. L. Worcester has re-entered Passavant hospital, Jacksonville, for observation. Miss Ida Dixon, Alton, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Ella Scott. Guests during the weekend in the home of Mrs. Lida Thomas were her daughters and husbands: Mr. and Mrs. Earl Petefish, Jacksonville and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ross, Chicago. Miss June Whitworth and Miss Carol Martin, students at the St. Joseph's School of Nursing, Alton, spent the weekend at home. Mrs. Mary Sorrells had as guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. George Duncan, Chicago, Mrs. Rachel Bryant, and Mrs. Charles Powell, White Hall. Mrs. Sorrells will leave in the near future for Detroit, Mich., where she will spend the winter after spending time here and at White Hall. Mr. and Mrs. George Wollermann, Charleston, are guests in the home of her mother, Mrs. Bessie Jolley. Also visiting in the same home is Mrs. Wollermann's son, Bill Reilly, who is home on furlough from Camp Chaffee, Ark., where he just completed his basic training. He will return to the camp at the end of his furlough for eight weeks more of training.

PIER DISAPPEARS FRANKLIN, N. H. (P)—The city of Franklin is offering a $25 reward to anyone who can tell officials what happened to a 42-foot pier. The pier disappeared during the spring from a beach on Webster Lake. It was made in two sections—for easy handling.

Pittsfield World War I Veterans Hold 26th Reunion

PITTSFIELD — Sixteen veterans of World War I of this area held their 26th annual reunion at "Bennoisey," the Barry Mumford cabin near Florence on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. All were members of the 309th Field Artillery, 78th Division and served one year together in action in France. They were billeted during service at a post named Bennoisey, from which the Mumford cabin received its name. The cabin is really a pretentious lodge, high on a bluff on the west bank of the Illinois river and was built by its owner for weekend and summer enjoyment a few years after hostilities had ceased. The weather was ideal throughout the weekend and the cabin was well stocked with fine food which Mrs. Mumford and the other wives of the veterans kept in ample supply. The boys of 35 years ago had much to talk about and fully enjoyed the three days of reminiscences and camaraderie. Those in attendance were: Evan L. Searcy and John L. Conlee of Springfield; Frank A. Robinson of Jacksonville; Ben H. Osborne, Guy Kessler and Albert Becker of Virden; Wayne Starr and Richard Starr, of Mt. Vernon, Ill.; Sterling Potts of Waverly; Virgil Shanahan of New Canton; Boone Simpson of Taylorville; George H. Fish, Merle S. Barber and Barry Mumford of Pittsfield. Among the letters of regret received was one from Ed Lanzan, formerly of Pittsfield and now of Dixon, Ill., who was prevented from joining in the reunion this year by reason of illness. Barry Mumford has been president and Evan L. Searcy has been

CERTIFICATE FOR SERVICE

Mr. and Mrs. John Ellis of the John Ellis Chevrolet Co., 307 South Main street, are shown receiving a framed certificate from Don Smith, district safety director of the Chicago Motor Club at the Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago, Sept. 25. The award was made in recognition of the company's cooperation in the Chicago Motor Club high school driver training program. The John Ellis Chevrolet Co. has furnished a training car for the safety courses in this city. More than 700 Illinois and Indiana automobile dealers and their wives were honored at a banquet for distinguished service to high school driver training programs.

secretary since the organization of the veterans.

Entertains Freshmen Miss Connie McGinnis, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert McGinnis, entertained 35 of her friends from the freshman class in the local high school at a hamburger fry on the lawn of her home Sunday night. A hay ride followed on a wagon bed piled high with the new mown hay drawn by the Ghrist tractor. After the hay ride the youngsters returned to the McGinnis home, where they were served hot chocolate and cookies by Connie's mother.

ARTISTS AT WORK

TOKYO (P)—Japan expects to export 30 per cent more Christmas cards this year than last, so even though it's summer Japanese artists are bending to their easels. The reason for increased output is a mounting demand for "Orientalism" in Christmas cards.

Want to make the Beautiful Buy?

The more cars we sell, the better deal we can make with you. So with our tremendous volume right now, we can offer you more money as an allowance on your present car when you trade it in for a new Buick. That means we're passing our success on to you where it counts—in the fewer dollars you pay for this dazzling new Buick.

You can't beat success in an automobile for proof of value. So take a look at the national sales figures and you find this fact: Buick today is outselling all other cars in America—regardless of price class—except two of the so-called "low-price three." And when you look at the "tomorrow" styling of this glamorous beauty—when you try it for V8 power, for room, for comfort, for ride—and when you check its low delivered price—you have all the reasons for Buick's soaring success.

Want to get the Top Allowance on your present car?

Want to be sure of a High Resale Value?

Now's the time to make your buy because —

Buick Sales are Soaring!

Buick today is graced with modern beauty—year-ahead styling that's bound to stay fresh and new-looking for years. It's what the other cars will come to in the future—even to that broad panoramic windshield. So you can be sure that you'll trade high later when you're ready to resell the Buick you buy right now. Come in—this very week—and make the buy of the year in Buick. You'll find you're way ahead now—and at trade-in time well in the future.

PTA At Waverly Sees Program On Health Exams

WAVERLY — The Waverly Parent Teacher Association held their first meeting of the school year in the Cafeteria last Thursday at 8 p.m. at the grade school.

The pledge of allegiance to the flag was led by Judy Eldridge, of the 8th grade, followed by group singing, led by Mrs. Robert Darley, the elementary music teacher.

In the absence of Gerald R. Brown, Superintendent of schools, the introduction of high school teachers was made by L. E. Laugham, Forrest Moore introduced the elementary teachers.

The monthly theme, "Health," was carried out by demonstrations given by public health nurses, Miss Betty Downs, Mrs. Jean Earle, Miss Ethel Glascock and Miss Amelia Killam. Demonstrations were given on eye tests, ear tests, brushing and care of the teeth, including a sodium fluoride treatment, and a complete physical examination. Bonnie Burnett and Larry Summers took the part of the children in the demonstrations, which were very interesting.

Mrs. Summers announced the district PTA conference to be held Tuesday, Oct. 5 at Carrollton and urged members to attend.

Refreshments of doughnuts, coffee and orange drink was served by the social committee of Mrs. E. K. Rutherford, Mrs. Wm. Neumann and Mrs. W. L. Hood.

Roy Hellock of Greenfield visited Mrs. Ida Davis, his mother-in-law, Saturday.

Mrs. Lela Zelmer of Jacksonville came Saturday for a week-end visit with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gordon. Sunday they all spent the day with another sister, Mrs. C. A. Range at Jerseyville.

Last Thursday Lewis Burton of Florida and brother and several friends called on Sam Gordon while enroute to Palmyra to visit other friends.

200,000 Search For Sioux City Boy Missing Four Weeks

SIoux CITY, Iowa (AP)—A mass search which authorities said will involve more than 200,000 persons in Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska will be undertaken Tuesday for 8-year-old Jimmy Bremmer, who mysteriously disappeared from his Sioux City home Aug. 31.

The searchers will include three National Guard units and Sioux City police department personnel. City officials Monday asked that business and industrial firms search their immediate premises and unoccupied areas adjacent to their establishments beginning at 1 p.m. And all residential and apartment dwellers were asked to look over their premises carefully beginning at 5 p.m.

Search officials said they would ask that the same policy be followed throughout Woodbury and Plymouth counties, Iowa; Union County, S.D., and Dakota County in Nebraska.

Sioux City Chief of Detectives Harry Gibbons has described the disappearance of Jimmy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bremmer, as "the most baffling missing persons case in Sioux City police history."

The boy had been out playing in the evening on the day he disappeared and the last person to report seeing him was a playmate who bid him good night about 8 p.m., only 40 yards from the Bremmer's modest home.

National Guardsmen, law enforcement officers and volunteers since have searched all the fields near Jimmy's home and Guardsmen have checked all bridges and culverts in Woodbury County. Intensive investigation of the case so far has turned up no clues.

Scottish Rite Elects Bushnell Grand Commander

BOSTON (AP)—Judge George E. Bushnell of Detroit, a justice of the Michigan Supreme Court for 21 years, today was elected to a three-year-term as sovereign grand commander of the Supreme Council, 33rd degree, of the Scottish Rite, for the northern Masonic jurisdiction.

Edward W. Wheeler, former general counsel of the Boston and Maine Railroad, former member of the Maine Senate and one time chairman of Maine's Board of Prison Commissioners, was elected grand lieutenant commander.

Judge Bushnell, first Democrat elevated to the Michigan high court in a half century, succeeds Dr. Melvin M. Johnson of Boston, who recently retired after more than 20 years as sovereign grand commander.

The northern jurisdiction embraces that portion of the United States which is east of the Mississippi River and north of the Mason-Dixon line.

U.S. MAN, PRISONER OF REBS, DIES OF PNEUMONIA

LAWTON, Okla. (AP)—Homer Cox, 33-year-old ex-GI imprisoned by the Russians for four years, died early Monday of pneumonia, apparently as an after-effect of his rigorous prison life.

Cox was found unconscious in a motel Sunday night and taken to a hospital where he died.

He apparently became acutely ill very suddenly.

Cox, who gained his freedom from a Russian prison only last December, said he was drugged and kidnapped in a West Berlin cafe, spirited into the Communist zone and taken to prison on charges of murdering a Russian officer and spying.

Sentenced to life, Cox said he was a slave laborer in mines and never expected to see the free world again.

SWEET PORT
RICHMOND (AP) — This city is classed by the U. S. Custom Office as a "sweet port."

Sugar, which is widely used by the big tobacco industry here, was imported to the tune of 9,422,693 pounds in the past six months. What makes it sweet to the customs office is the import duty of close to a million dollars.

New Teachers Guests Of JCT

The Jacksonville Classroom Teachers honored the new teachers in the system at its first regular meeting held at the South Jacksonville grade school on Sept. 22 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Mildred Gregory, president of the JCT, presided. Mrs. Harriet Milburn is the secretary. John Hollowell acted as parliamentarian.

Mrs. Mabel B. Watt, chairman of the program committee, introduced Mrs. Gregory who presented to the JCT a report of the 92nd annual meeting of the National Education Association held in New York City in the early summer. Mrs. Gregory was the official delegate of the organization.

The various speeches, discussion groups, and policy-making programs were outlined by the speaker. She emphasized the urgent need for new teachers—125,000 yearly. The pageant, entitled "Through Freedom's Door" presented by approximately 2000 children of the New York City schools was described by Mrs. Gregory.

Miss Elaine Prestivios led the group in singing familiar songs. She was accompanied by Mrs. George Vasey at the piano.

The committee in charge of the social hour which followed included: the Misses Sue Hammitt, Martha Symons, Blanche Spall, and JoAnn Becaley; the Meses. Maude Hingate and Lucile O'Brien, and the Messrs. August and Tavender.

HOUSE TROUBLES

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—So you think you have troubles?

Asking for a tax reduction on her house, a young woman who described herself as a family breadwinner gave the tax equalization board these reasons:

The house is falling down.

The furniture is coming apart.

Noisy trucks drive past at all hours.

Noisy airplanes fly over the house.

Nobody will buy the house under any conditions.

Giants, Indians Open 1954 World Series Today

Big Names Disappear From Grid's Top Ten

Foul Lines Big Factors, Says Al Lopez

NEW YORK (AP)—Senior Al Lopez, soft-spoken skipper of Cleveland's Indians, has a hunch the Polo Grounds' short foul line fences may be deciding factors in the first two games of the World Series.

"This is one ball park where 'pull' will get you someplace," Lopez cracked as the American League champs went through a two-hour batting and fielding drill Tuesday in the New York Giants' Harlem home.

Home run territory down the right field foul line is only a 257-foot shot. Along the left field line it's 279 feet. Walls are of concrete, breaking sharply from the foul lines.

Balls carom off the concrete in crazy ways, and Lopez said "it takes time to learn to play 'em off the walls. The best way is to pull your outfielders closer together, and let the left or right fielder play the carom, with the center fielder backing 'em up. There's no defense against a blooper hit down the foul line, so you play to hold balls which hit the walls to singles if you can."

Lopez insisted the Indians would win the series—they've won both times they've gotten into the big show, in 1920 and 1948—but declined to say how many games would be necessary.

FAN BREEZES

BY BILL MERRIS

The 1954 World Series begins today in New York with the Cleveland Indians remaining a solid favorite to whip the New York Giants. Since 1946 when the Cardinals upset the Red Sox it has become a "matter of formality" that the American League club will emerge as World Champions. For this reason and the fact the Indians possess the best pitching staff in baseball the writers and fans throughout the country are picking the Tribe.

Maybe it's because we want to be different or maybe it's because we have faith in the National League but for the record we pick the Giants to win in six games. Looking back to April we recall we picked the Dodgers and Yankees to win and to make matters worse we had the Cardinals finishing second and the Giants in the second division. Of course we aren't alone. Most of the writers now on the Indian handwagon picked the same teams as we did before the season started. A lot of us were way off.

Although you don't need a reason or reasons to say "I'll take the Indians or I'll bet on the Giants" we have a couple of "excuses" for picking the Durochermen to come through. We feel the Giants will get off on the right foot this afternoon when they send Sal Maglie against Bob Lemon in the Polo Grounds. We agree Lemon is one of the best pitchers in baseball but Durocher will have Wilhelm warm and ready to go in case The Barber gets in trouble.

This game won't be the only time Wilhelm and Grissom limber their arms up. They have been on emergency call all through the season and have played an important role in the Giants victory. Besides the strong bullpen, the Giants have a couple pretty fair hitters in Willie Mays and Don Mueller. Mueller may not pack the wallop Doby and Rosen do but he finished second in the National League batting race and is a good sound hitter.

For these two reasons we have faith in the magic touch of Leo Durocher and his team. They may not be the best team to represent the senior circuit in the annual classic but their ability to put up a good fight can never be doubted. In the past five years the National League winner has had to face the Yankees and the name alone seemed to be enough for victory. It looked as if the Yanks always held the cards but we'll have to be shown the Indians can carry on.

MISSOURI WORKS ON DEFENSE

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—The University of Missouri football squad worked on defense Tuesday. Coach Don Faurot sought to correct errors the Tigers had made against Purdue last Saturday and to meet Kansas State's powerful running attack at Manhattan this weekend.

American League Decides To Hold Off A's Decision

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—The American League Tuesday night sat back and waited to see what happens in the next two weeks or so before reaching a decision on what to do with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Representatives of the eight league clubs adjourned their day-long meeting, at which they heard two plans concerning the future of their slumping Philadelphia franchise, until "sometime after Oct. 12." The club owners, who also were brought up to date on the A's financial situation, did not announce a definite site or time for resumption of the meeting.

Two plans were laid before the club owners, one calling for a shift of the franchise to Kansas City. The other would give a second group control and keep the A's in Philadelphia at least for the time being.

Arnold Johnson, the Chicago realtor who said he was ready to put up $34 million dollars for the club and Connie Mack stadium and then move the A's to the Missouri city, seemed troubled by the delay, but remained confident of gaining the league's support for his plan.

After the adjournment, Johnson said "if we are delayed two weeks, I doubt that the stands (in the Kansas City Stadium) would be ready for the 1955 season."

While the delay might set back Johnson's plans, it may work to the benefit of Thomas Richardson, a director of the Athletics and president of the Eastern Baseball League, who heads a group hopeful of keeping the A's in Philadelphia for the present.

Richardson told the club owners that he and a group of friends would match any price offered for the A's. His plan came to light for the first time Tuesday and he told the league representatives he had been working on it for only about a week. The league's delay probably would give Richardson time to solidify his offer with increased cash.

Football Briefs

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Don Schaefer, junior from Pittsburgh, Pa., has won the No. 1 fullback spot at Notre Dame off his performance against Texas, Coach Terry Brennan said Tuesday.

Brennan emphasized, however, that John Gaffney of Chicago, Nick Raich of Milwaukee and Dick Fitzgerald of Chicago, who has been slowed by injuries, still are in the fullback race.

Schaefer was the leading Irish ground gainer against Texas with 63 yards in nine carries.

First and second teams alternated between offensive and defensive work Tuesday and much time was spent on pass defense.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Veteran guard Paul Furmsky has been lost for the nationally televised Stanford game Saturday with a knee injury, Illinois Coach Ray Eliot said Tuesday.

Furmsky, hurt in the Penn State game, has his knee in a cast. Percy Oliver, Miami, Fla., sophomore, has been shifted from tackle back to guard to fill the gap.

Two other guards, veterans Wally Vernasco and Bucky Tate, are hobbled by injuries.

12 PLAYERS ILL

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—From 12 to 15 players, including senior fullback Bob Lauter, reported ill and unable to practice Tuesday and Northwestern Coach Bob Voigts said the sickness was influenza.

All but about two of the players were on the sidelines watching workouts as freshmen ran Southern California plays against the first stringers.

Giants Hold Final Tuneup Without Durocher

NEW YORK (AP)—Leo Durocher was downtown meeting with Commissioner Ford Frick, Cleveland Manager Al Lopez and the umpires Tuesday when his New York Giants held their final tuneup for Wednesday's World Series opener at the Polo Grounds.

George Spencer, ineligible for the series, threw batting practice, to start the drill. Ruben Gomez, the Puerto Rican who is expected to start the third game, also pitched to the hitters.

Durocher didn't arrive at the Giants clubhouse until the players were finished and dressed. He spoke briefly with some of his men before announcing to the press that Sal Maglie would start the first game.

Durocher sat in the upper stands to watch the Cleveland club take its batting practice.

When Bobby Avila came down the steps from the Indians' clubhouse, the photographers mobbed him. They yelled to the Giants clubhouse for Willie Mays to come back on the field so they could get a shot of the two batting champions. May obliged.

WON'T COMMENT

DENVER (AP)—Secretary of the Army Stevens Tuesday declined comment on a Senate committee's recommendation that Sen. McCarthy's be censured by the Senate.

"It would be inappropriate for me to make any comment, particularly since it is a matter of unfinished Senate business," Stevens told reporters.

SPORTS TRAIL

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—The past 5 years it has been easy to pick the winner of the World Series. All you had to do was to select the team the Yankees were playing, and you could be sure the Yankees would win.

This year the Yankees are off in a corner brooding over the fact they won 103 games and finished eight games out of first place, and their absence from the series picture presents a problem.

Maybe it would be logical to pick against the Yankee stand-ins, the Cleveland Indians, to assure another American League victory, but somehow we have the hunch that system won't work this year. We're picking the Giants, all right but only because we think they will win—in, say, six or seven games.

It's just that Leo Durocher's club has been doing the unexpected all year, pulling games out of the fire in the late innings, getting the long ball at the most opportune times, coming up with the defensive play that breaks the back of the opposition.

It doesn't seem reasonable they should abruptly cease to function in this manner, although it is admitted a World Series does strange things to ball players. There is so much at stake financially that every ball seems to be a dollar sign and it's always hard to hang onto a dollar, or make it go far.

We are duly impressed with the fact the Indians won 111 games, and are aware their pitching staff is practically a bottomless pit, although in a series, it isn't so much the depth that counts. It's the quality and you can't deny the quality of Bob Lemon and Early Wynn, and Mike Garcia and Bob Feller.

But we do think the Giants have been toughened by stouter competition this year, as any club, down to the supposedly futile Pirates, packed the power to knock over any other team on occasion. The American League had a three-club first division, and the other five clubs just made the customary light.

All other things being equal, it often is one man who is the difference in a series, and we believe he is the man who will lead the Willie Mays. This year he led the league with 345 and hit 41 home runs.

This is a peculiar series in that the rivals know each other like brothers. They staged series dress rehearsals in Arizona last spring and all the way back, and although the Giants had a 13-8 edge in these dry runs we don't consider that significant.

What is significant, though, is that the Giants know the Indian pitching, and vice versa, so neither team will come to the plate against some stranger who will confuse it.

Anyway, we're stringing along with the New Yorkers. They're opportunists, more daring, are a better defensive club, and they have Willie Mays. And, as mentioned, they won't be awed by the Cleveland mound stars. They've been introduced to them on numerous occasions before.

White Hall Frosh-Soph Shellac Roodhouse 24-0

WHITE HALL (Special)—White Hall High School's frosh-soph football squad used a valiant but weaker Roodhouse eleven for a doormat here last night, compiling a run-away 24-0 victory.

The host team got off to a fast start early in the first quarter, when Tilley intercepted a Roodhouse pass and ran 35 yards for a touchdown.

White Hall halfback Grizzle loaded more woe on the visitors in the second period. He first took the ball 35 yards through the center of the Roodhouse line for another six points, and later reached pay dirt again on a 15-yard end run.

Roodhouse rallied to hold the victors scoreless in the third quarter.

White Hall's final TD came in the last quarter, as Ahern smashed off tackle for 15 yards.

The victors failed in all four point-after-touchdown tries.

Turner Battles Andrews Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—Gil Turner, the whirlwind slugger from Philadelphia who is pointing for another welterweight title shot at Kid Gavilan, faces sturdy Al Andrews Wednesday night in a 10-round rematch at Chicago Stadium.

The durable Andrews, from Superior, Wis., lost a close decision to Turner when the two tangled in a savage brawl at the stadium last Aug. 18.

The rematch will be televised nationally (CBS) at 9 p. m. (CST).

55,000 Fans Expected To See Maglie, Lemon Tangle At 12 Noon

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cleveland Indians and New York Giants will meet in the first game of the 1954 World Series Wednesday at the Polo Grounds with Bob Lemon scheduled to pitch for the American League champions and Sal Maglie for the National League pennant winners.

The weather forecast looks for increasing cloudiness Wednesday followed by rain in the evening. That wouldn't affect the crowd of 55,000 expected for the cry "play ball" at noon (CST). The weatherman said the afternoon temperature would be about 70-75.

The second game of the series also is scheduled for the Polo Grounds with the teams going to Cleveland's Municipal Stadium for the third, fourth and fifth, is necessary, games Friday, Saturday and Sunday. If the series goes the full seven games, the teams would be back in New York Monday and Tuesday.

All games start at noon (CST) with television (NBC) and radio (Mutual) at 11:45 a. m.

Managers Al Lopez of Cleveland and Leo Durocher of New York did the expected in picking two righthanders for the opener. Lemon has a 23-7 season record and Maglie 14-7. For the second game the Giants will use Johnny Antonelli 21-7 against Early Wynn 23-11.

This will be the third series for Cleveland and the Indians are the 9-5 favorites to make it three world championships without defeat. The Indians are the 6-5 choice in the opening game.

Cleveland defeated Brooklyn 5 games to 2 in 1920 and the Boston Braves 4 games to 2 in 1948.

The Giants will be playing in their 14th World Series, but the Polo Grounders haven't won the fall classic since 1933 when they polished off the Washington Senators 4 games to 1.

This is the first time in six years that the Yankees are missing from the series scene. Under Casey Stengel the Yanks won five straight world championships.

With the huge Cleveland stadium seating more than 80,000, a record player cut is expected. The winning team may split up around $10,000 per man and the losers about $6,000. Last year each Yankee got a record $8,280.68 and the losing Brooklyn players received a record of $6,178.42. The player pool comes only from the first four games.

The TV rights were sold for one million dollars with radio adding another $200,000. This goes into the Central Fund out of which the player pension program is supported.

Both teams had batting practice at the Polo Grounds Tuesday.

In case of dark skies during the series, the umpires will be permitted to turn on the lights whenever needed. If it rains before game time the commissioner has the final say on any postponement. If it rains during a game, the umpires will make the decision. Presumably they would confer with Frick before calling off a game.

This is the first World Series meeting of the Indians and Giants, who have been spring training sparring mates since 1934. Last spring the Giants won the series 13-8. Neither manager puts much faith in those figures.

Ticket Seekers Line Up Early Tuesday Morning

NEW YORK (AP)—The law dispersed baseball fans forming lines at the Polo Grounds ticket windows Tuesday and for a time it appeared one of the time honored World Series traditions was getting the old heave ho.

But it was only temporary, a spokesman at police headquarters explained. The early birds were allowed to line up again late in the day after wooden barriers were erected to help patrolmen maintain order.

A Brooklyn Dodger fan, no less, George Schneider, was the first in line early Tuesday, waiting with others to buy bleacher seats for the first game of the series Wednesday between the New York Giants and Cleveland Indians. Schneider began the lineup at about 4 a. m.

Roy Paul, disabled veteran of World War II from Des Moines, Iowa, was next to arrive, about an hour and a half later.

Police headquarters explained anybody who wants to can stand in line all night in order to buy some 3,600 bleacher seats going on sale at 9 a. m. Wednesday.

The weatherman promised a chilly night—in the low 50s by morning.

Paul's predictions for the series were chillier than the weather report.

"Cleveland's got the worst infield in baseball and the Giants have a worse team," said the war veteran gloomily.

"I don't care who wins as long as it goes four straight. I want to get it over with."

Sale Of Race Track Delayed

CHICAGO (AP)—Reported sale of the Lincoln Fields race track has been delayed at least until Friday by a dispute among track officials.

A beneficiary of a trust which includes 48,000 shares of the track's common stock has filed suit against executors of the trust asking an accounting, a court-supervised sale of stock and removal of the trustees.

Superior Court Judge James M. McDermott Tuesday gave attorneys for both sides until Friday to settle their differences.

The executors, Miss Frances Polley and Atty. Charles Aaron, are said to be attempting to sell the track to a group headed by John Stelle, former governor of Illinois.

Peter O'Neill, the objecting beneficiary, charges the trust which is part of the estate of the late Edward J. Fleming, coal magnate is being used by Miss Polley and Aaron to their own personal advantage.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (P)—The bond market was mixed to lower Tuesday in a relatively quiet session. "Big Board" volume declined to $2,662,000 par value from the $3,591,000 Monday. There was little in the way of trends in the various divisions, as both rails and utilities showed signs of softness.

U. S. government obligations were unchanged to lower in slow over the counter trading.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (P)—The stock market ran into difficulties Tuesday but managed to coast to a mixed close.

Outstanding strength in a handful of stocks pulled the market averages slightly higher on balance.

Despite that showing, however, more stocks ended the day with minus signs than with plus signs. Motors were the outstanding performer. They had a following on the higher side among steels, oils and rubbers.

Railroads were depressed, and minus signs were liberally sprinkled throughout all other major divisions of the list.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks reflected these and other gains by rising 10 cents at $137.00. That put the average back to the 25-year peak attained last Friday. The market was down 10 cents Monday.

The industrial component of the average advanced 50 cents at a new high of $189.10 while the railroads slipped off 50 cents, and the utilities remained unchanged.

Total business came to only 1,800,000 shares, less than the daily average so far this year. Monday's business amounted to 2,190,000 shares.

The American Stock Exchange was mixed on low volume of 580,000 shares as compared with 680,000 shares traded Monday.

Soybeans Firm, Others Mixed

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (P)—Soybeans maintained a firm tone while the rest of the grain list wound up with fractional gains and losses on the Board of Trade Tuesday.

At one time all cereals showed gains. Toward the finish, however, selling pressure increased and found the market quite bare of bids. Wheat, oats and rye all slipped under the previous finish while advances in soybeans and corn were reduced.

Wheat closed 1 1/2¢ lower, corn unchanged to 1/4¢ higher, oats 1/4¢ lower, rye unchanged to 1/4¢ lower, soybeans 1 1/4 to 2 cents higher and lard 17 cents lower to 2 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Main reason for soybean's better action was a sharp falling off in receipts of cash beans, totaling only 38 cars against 618 Monday. Light rains in parts of Illinois and Iowa also were a firming influence as they were expected to delay the harvest a few days. The weekly Weather Bureau crop report said frosts in the northern section of the soybean belt last week caused very limited damage.

The frost didn't hurt corn much either, the bureau said. About 10 per cent of the corn was damaged to some extent in South Dakota, but the bureau said this was not serious because the first autumn freeze usually occurs about this time and most corn in the affected areas is used for silage and forage.

Corn held fairly steady in the cash market after Monday's sharp drop.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (P)—In a slow trade butcher hogs mainly sold steady to 25 cents lower Tuesday, although in some cases losses ran as much as 40 cents. Sows held steady. Receipts were in line with expectations at 10,000 head.

Most 190 to 280-pound butchers moved at $19.75 to $20.00 with numerous loads and lots $20.10 and $20.15. A few loads reached $20.25, the top. This was unchanged from Monday. Sows sold from $16.00 to $19.75.

Steers sold mostly steady although in some instances losses of 25 cents were recorded. Heifers were steady to stronger. Top on prime steers was $29.00. Most good and choice steers brought $21.00 to $25.50 with comparable heifers $19.50 to $24.00.

Cows sold steady to 25 cents lower. Vealers held about steady at $17.00 to $22.00 for good to choice kids. Salable sheep receipts totaled 2,000. Spring lambs sold steady to 50 cents higher at $19.50 to $20.50 for choice to prime. A top of $21.00 was sparingly paid.

OLD SMOKE-EATER

DOVER, N. H. (AP)—This city of 15,800 thinks it has the oldest active firefighter in the nation.
And in his 59 years on the department, 81-year-old Joseph Heney recalls he missed only one bell alarm of the some 2,000 sounded during those years. A case of pneumonia a few years back caused him to break his record.
Recalling his narrowest brush with death, Heney said he and three other firefighters entered a basement during a 1933 fire. Without warning an upper floor collapsed, blocking their exit.
Just as the quartet was about to give up hope of escape, a gas explosion blew them off their feet.
When they regained consciousness, all four of them were sprawled in the street outside, injured, but not seriously, by the blast.

SUSPECT

By Hugh Lawrence Nelson

Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Jim Dunn, private detective, who with his wife Nancy is posing as a caretaker while doing some work for his client, Mrs. Kit Carlson, has just discovered the body of Mrs.
Angela Jones, sister-in-law of his client, in the basement of the mountain lodge occupied by Mrs. Kit. The discovery is immediately complicated by the presence of the car of Miss Wister, Jim's secretary, outside the lodge. Jim thought Miss Wister was in Denver. Miss Wister is not around but when the sheriff arrives, she is riding with the sheriff. And the sheriff is a woman, Mrs. Toby Argyle.

XIV

MISS WISTER told her story in a monotone which gave no emphasis to any particular part and no credence to the whole.

"Angela talked to me on the phone yesterday at the office in Denver. She was calling long distance. She wanted to see me said she had something of interest to tell. I couldn't get away before and I met her at Creek Junction last night. We drove part way here. I guess I got confused because I turned off the main road here. It was dark as pitch. I got out of the car and walked on ahead to see what was going to come along next, to see where the road went. Angelica turned my car around, drove off and left me. For a while I thought she would be coming back, so I just waited. I stumbled around in the dark awhile then and decided I'd better just stay put until daylight. I did.
When it got light I started walking, and I'd managed to reach the main road when Mrs. Argyle came along in her truck.
She brought me here."

Jim Dunn looked at Sheriff Agnes with both expectation and fear. Expectation of a blast which would jolt Miss Wister from her present state of mind, and fear that his secretary would probably be arrested immediately.

Instead, the sheriff asked mildly, "What time did you meet Angelica?"

"About three this morning," Miss Wister said. "I couldn't make it any sooner."

"What did she want to see you about?"

"She didn't get around to telling me."

Jim Dunn found that his mouth was open. He closed it, swallowed several times to moisten the lining of his throat. He realized that neither Miss Wister nor the sheriff was paying much attention to what she was saying.
Both seemed to have their minds the concentration of their thoughts, on something else. Both were going through the motions of a more or less proper attention to the requirement of such a situation. That was for his benefit.

HE must have made some sort of noise with his swallowing because Sheriff Agnes turned toward him, gave him a hard look and glare, and used an equally harsh tone in the question, "You know this woman well?"

"She works for me," Jim managed. He showed the sheriff his credentials. She did not give any evidence of surprise, or, for that matter, of any particular interest.

She said, "All right. And—the body?"

The very slight hesitation before the use of the last word gave Jim what he thought to be his clue. So that was the reason for the sheriff's preoccupation. She was putting off as long as possible an examination which must be made in accordance with her official position. Dreading it so much, she had missed the many

"In the basement," Jim said.
"On the wood elevator." He handed over the key to the basement door.

"Well, Miss Wister?"

She almost smiled, but then her face took on a stubborn expression. There was nothing he could do but let nature take its course, which in this case meant listening to whatever it was Miss Wister had decided to tell him.

"You may not know it," Miss Wister said, "but I'm a relation of the Carlsons. Call it cousin, which is close enough. I suppose you noticed I recognized Kit when she came into the office, and I'm sure she knew me, or of me through Angela. Anyway when you told me to look up anything I could on Mrs. Hilton, I had a head start. I've always kept track of the Carlson doings, just as a matter of habit."

"Just a minute," Jim interrupted. "Did she actually phone you?"

Miss Wister did not appreciate the interruption. "She phoned me. She—often did. I'd just as soon have it known by anyone else, but sometimes I received mail for Angela."

"Who from?" Jim demanded.

She set her lips in a mulish line. "I wouldn't care to make a guess. Anyway she'd call me up and ask, 'Anything?' That was all, because we couldn't tell how much the local operators toady to Mrs. Oswald. But this time when she called she wanted help in getting something from The Spires. Poor thing! I've always liked Angela. At least, I've liked her the best of any of the Carlsons. But still, she is a Carlson! At any rate I had to come up to make a report to you,
so I arranged to meet Angela
at Creek Junction."

"How about this report?" Jim asked.

"I'm going to wait awhile," Miss Wister said.

DIAL SYSTEM INSTALLED FOR STATE HOSPITAL TELEPHONES

AT 3 P. M. MONDAY the Illinois Telephone company cut off the regular cable running to the manual switchboard at the Jacksonville State Hospital. A minute later the dial system went into operation.

About six months were required to bring in the new dial system cable and set up the selectors for the 280 telephones at the hospital. Fifty of these phones can reach the Jacksonville exchange by dialing "9." When the city's dial system is installed employees of the hospital may call any number by dialing "9" and then the regular number.

The other 230 phones may dial each other, but must dial the hospital exchange in order to get an outside connection.

Hospital and telephone company officials were present when the new system was cut in. At the switchboard is Robert Rawlings, who has been an operator at the hospital for the past 13 years. He'll stay on as chief operator under the new system. Standing, from left, are Hazel Bottenfield, assistant chief operator of the Jacksonville system; J. F. VanDeVusse, company president, Bloomington; William C. Cochran, hospital business manager; Dr. Louis Belinson, hospital superintendent; W. O. Randall, branch manager; James N. Cox, commercial representative of the telephone company, and Odell Fellhauer, plant superintendent.

Reception Honors New Principal in South Jacksonville

South Jacksonville P.T.A. held its first meeting of the school year at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 21, as a "get acquainted" gathering with the president, Mrs. Harry Massey, calling the meeting to order.

The new officers serving with Mrs. Massey are: vice president, Mrs. H. A. Anderson; secretary, Mrs. Courtney Ford and treasurer, Mrs. Ivan Crawford.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Luttig of the finance committee were called on for a complete report of the burgo sponsored Sept. 13 by the association. They thanked parents and teachers for their cooperation in the venture. Despite the drought, which caused the purchase of costly ingredients for the soup the profit was $454.41.

Mrs. Majel Segrist, membership chairman, told the group that 121 memberships were sold preceding the first meeting. Mrs. Parrell Patterson presented reasons by parents and teachers should subscribe to the National Parents and Teachers' magazine. The magazine is for the sole purpose of enlightening parent and teacher and is non-profit containing no advertising.

On behalf of the Association the president expressed thanks to the Lions club for their very generous donation to the school for the traffic light, to the village of South Jacksonville, for maintaining the light and to all men who helped with the installation.

Miss Dorothy Cobb, fourth grade teacher, made colorful name tags to pin on each person as they entered the school building for the meeting.

Safety Poster Decorations
The school was attractively decorated with posters pertaining to safety patrol. The patrol boys are under supervision of Mrs. Jean Murgatroyd and gave their pledge for the group and a poem.

Stanley Smith was introduced and expressed thanks for the large turnout. He mentioned the many fine advantages of the Jacksonville community, the lovely park, golf course, size of the city and the friendliness of the community.

Mrs. Massey announced that eye examination would start next week for all pupils. Friday, Oct. 15, will be teacher's institute.

Enjoy Dance Program
Mrs. Harry Beasall, program chairman, introduced Charles and Mary Jane Grant, who furnished a program of the following dancers: Diane Hammond, Sherrill Grant, Wayne Shay, Debbie Anderson, Sherry Carver and Grace Ann Hembrough. Mrs. Jean Luttrell was at the piano. After the meeting the children were served refreshments in the dining room.

A reception was held in the library for Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smith and the faculty. Faculty members are Mrs. Daniels, Mrs. Lansing, Miss Hammit, Miss Seaton, Mrs. Birch, Miss Francisco, Miss Cobb, Mrs. Long, Mr. Thaxton and Mrs. Murgatroyd.

The table was beautifully decorated by Mrs. J. Aldon Ryan, Mrs. John Chapman and Miss Dorothy Cobb, social committee, who were assisted by Mrs. Harry Bourn and Mrs. Mosslett McCormick seventh grade mothers. Cookies were baked by the seventh grade mothers. Mrs. H. A. Anderson, Mrs. Merle Wade, Mrs. Ivan Crawford, Mrs. Courtney Ford poured.

Kids Make Good Safety Record In Bike Rodeo

If the safety contest conducted Saturday by the Kiwanians at their observation of National Kids Day by sponsoring a Bicycle Rodeo, is an example of the caution taken by Jacksonville student cyclists, the city can well be proud of the record established. Of the 187 entries 179 received certificates of merit and 25 made excellent ratings of 90 or above.

The safety contest was included in the Rodeo held from 1:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon at the Monson County Fairgrounds following the parade held in the morning. A detailed report will be prepared showing the scores of all entries and sent to all schools. Walter Hamilton was the general chairman of the Bicycle Rodeo.

The 25 who received a score of 90 or above are: tied for first place and out of a perfect 100 score were Joseph Bond and James Keelner, 98; Tom Murray and Dean Low, 97; Richard Spencer and Jimmie Fairchild, 96; Bud Marquard, Jimmie Mann, Janet Robbins, Larry Sullivan and Garry Craddock, 95; Lonnie Rabjohns and Reginald Rabjohns, 94; Richard Pittsimmings, 93; Robbie Wolfe, Gary Watts, 92; John Elliott, John Fitzpatrick and Jimmy Buck, 91; Albert Hatala, Dennis Lewis, Odie Meadows, Johnny Conover, Billy Pusacca and Warren Henske, all drawing an even 90.

Mrs. Iva Main Of Pittsfield Dies

PITTSFIELD, Ill. — Mrs. Iva Scanland Main, wife of Frank Main, Pittsfield jeweler, died at 11:45 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Mary's Hospital in Decatur, Ill., where she had been a patient for several weeks. She had been in ill health for more than a year.

Mrs. Main was born in Pittsfield, October 10, 1884, the daughter of the late Charles and Eliza Simpkins Scanland and spent her entire life in Pittsfield.

She was active in the Methodist Church and social circles. On May 3, 1905, she was united in marriage with Frank Main who survives with two daughters, Mrs. John Zimmerman of Decatur and Mrs. Bernice Martin of Chicago; a sister, Mrs. Minnie Scanland of Pittsfield, and a brother, Gus Scanland of New York. Also a grandson.

The body was taken to the Sutter Funeral Home in Pittsfield Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

New Book In Tribute To Barton W. Stone

The closing years of the life of Barton Warren Stone in Jacksonville are described graphically in a new book by William Garrett West, which will be published Oct. 2 by the Disciples of Christ Historical Society, Nashville, Tenn. Stone, an early American advocate of Christian unity, occupies a prominent role in American religious history.

After coming to Jacksonville from Kentucky in 1834, Stone organized what is now the Central Christian church, and with the assistance of David Pat Henderson edited and published The Christian Messenger, which had a wide circulation in its day.

The new book entitled Barton Warren Stone is authored by William Garrett West, minister of the First Christian church, Chattanooga, Tenn. Dr. West was for seven years minister of the historic Old Stone Church, East Haven, Conn. At Yale he won the Merck and Calkins prizes in preaching.

Founded Local Church
Written after exhaustive research, the book traces the career of the pioneer preacher and organizer through many years bringing him to this city in 1834 where he found two churches, a Christian Church and a Church of the Reformers, which he guided into consolidation.

Stone was one of a group of religious leaders of the early 19th century who advocated uniting churches through a return to practices and principles of the New Testament, eliminating all creeds, Thomas and Alexander Campbell, father and son; Stone and Walter Scott constituted what has been considered the "big four" of that American religious movement which resulted in two Protestant groups of today: Disciples of Christ and Churches of Christ.

In a chapter titled "Stone's Last Days; Evaluation," the author mentioned that Stone bought lots in the town of Jacksonville from 1830 to 1835, and that he bought almost 300 acres of land in the surrounding area.

"Jacksonville, to which Stone moved in September, 1834, was a frontier village on the outskirts of civilized Illinois. However, it was a village containing men of literary eminence and moral worth. Stephen A. Douglas began his residence in Jacksonville the same year old Stone. Peter Cartwright, eminent Methodist circuit rider, and

Utility Chief Moves To Plug Water Losses

While the total pumpage for 1953 was 1,098,109,000 gallons, the total amount of water sold amounted to only 800,114,500 gallons or 23.2% less than was pumped, the city council was told Monday night by N. J. Butler, managing superintendent of the water, light, and sewer department.

Butler brought out that fact among a large number of other statistics he compiled in making a survey of the city's water distribution system, which also serves South Jacksonville.

"In the City of Jacksonville distribution losses have been running very high," Butler reported. "Varying during the past three years from 114% to 35%. Some of these losses can be attributed to various estimates made for fighting fires and the various sources of supply during the present emergency, but they have been in evidence prior to the present emergency."

Losses On Billings

Butler, who assumed charge of the municipal utilities Sept. 1 of this year, said another variation in monthly losses has been due to the fact that on estimated billings the number of which is quite high in monthly total, the cubic feet of water used as the basis for the estimated billing was not shown on the monthly summary. "This inaccuracy was corrected in the accounting department so that in the future monthly figures on water sold should more nearly reflect actual consumption," Butler explained.

Referring to the new rates which were established by the council several months ago, and to the expansion of the water system due to the transmission line from the Illinois river, the superintendent continued in his report:

"Reducing losses and with the new rates in effect, revenue based on 1953 pumpage should approximate $321,300.00 or $90,407.17 more than in 1953.

Advices Check Of Meters

"In order to affect a reduction in distribution losses two things appear to be necessary, first a complete check of the distribution system for leaks. Second, a check of all water meters which have not been tested or rehabilitated within the last two years. Third, a complete survey both in Jacksonville and South Jacksonville to determine if every user of water is metered."

"In order for the City of Jacksonville to control the measuring devices through which their service is sold it is suggested and recommended that by a suitable ordinance all meters up to and including 1" in size be taken over by the City of Jacksonville for future maintenance. This will permit the City to place all meters on a definite schedule of testing so their condition and accuracy can be controlled."

"In the start of such an activity meters for new properties or new services would still be bought and paid for by the property owner so that each and every property owner would have an equal investment. Sometime in the distant future or after all meters presently in service have been tested and rehabilitated consideration could be given to the furnishing of all meters except for those sizes over 1".

Includes South Jacksonville

"The problem is somewhat more difficult in South Jacksonville due to the fact that service is being sold to the citizens over their meters over which the City of Jacksonville does not have control. However, due to the fact that the City of Jacksonville sells water at the retail rate to South Jacksonville citizens all meters in South Jacksonville could be included in the testing schedule, perhaps by a suitable agreement with the City Administration.

"The survey to determine if all places are properly metered should also include South Jacksonville."

"A somewhat more satisfactory method of charging for water used in South Jacksonville for fire fighting and other public uses is suggested and undoubtedly a conference with them it can be worked out."
